

LOCATION

Main Island of the Egadi archipelago, stands around a natural inlet in which port there are the buildings of the ancient Tonnara Florio.

The Florio family expanded and restructured the tonnara, building the factory and the revolutionary method of conservation for tuna was invented. In 1991 the factory was acquired by the Sicilian Region which made it a splendid example of industrial archeology. Inside, a space is intended as a museum, with multimedia rooms, video testimonies related to the tuna trap, and also historical films. There is also an "antiquarium" with archaeological finds found in the archipelago.

To date, the traditional Mediterranean architecture of the island, characterized by white plaster and blue windows, are the object of enhancement, the landscape is in fact protected by the superintendence of cultural heritage.

Favignana is the perfect destination for those who love seaside destinations, characterized by clear and transparent waters, establishing itself as an important tourist destination.

WHAT TO DO IN FAVIGNANA

What characterizes Favignana is a peaceful and relaxing atmosphere, ideal for those who love the sea and for those who want to escape from the hectic pace of city life.

But in recent years, thanks to mass tourism, it is gradually specializing more in the entertainment sector.

Having an aperitif in Favignana is a must. Returning from the sea, with the salt on the body and the cool heat of September, taking advantage of the fantastic atmosphere of the sunset, a unique and magnificent view from the island.
